

A Platinum Perspective

Exclusive Interview with Rob Donaldson, Sr Vice President, Targa Resources

1. Forum Voice: Thank you for taking the time to talk to the Forum Voice. Could you tell us what made you decide to become a platinum sponsor of this year's World LPG Forum?

The US energy sector has transformed in a relatively short period of time. In less than a decade, the US has moved from importing LPG to become the largest LPG exporting country in the world. While Targa Resources has long held a leading position in the US LPG market domestically, it is important to develop new relationships with the world. Through support to the WLPGA, Targa views the Forum as a perfect opportunity to invite the world to experience Houston and connect with US LPG industry.

2. Forum Voice: What are your thoughts on the key opportunities for LPG / propane in the US and the region?

Given the sustained production growth, the US LPG opportunities should continue to develop. The size for a clean fuel like propane in the US is varied in location and application from retail, agricultural, commercial, and petrochemical. LPG supply and pricing support new applications as well. Targa is focused on supporting the industry from production to the new opportunities, by developing infrastructure for storage and delivery of LPG.

3. Forum Voice: Why, according to you, should delegates attend this year's Forum?

Building on the growing US supply security, whether delegates are from the US or overseas, there are rich opportunities for consistent, quality, and well-priced LPG. Attending the Houston Forum gives one direct access to the global producers and suppliers of LPG. The US LPG industry is poised to surpass the Middle East' total LPG supply in 2018, making these connections in Houston even more important for the future. Additionally, the Forum will cover the latest in technology and handling LPG for global markets.

4. Forum Voice: What are you most looking forward to during the Forum in Houston?

As a resident of Houston, I'm most looking forward to welcoming so many guests from around the world to our beautifully fun city. Houston has a lot to offer from an industry standpoint, being the center of energy in the US. But it also offers great diversity of food and fun for attendees and their families.
